

I have read through most of the 2020 document and We fail to agree with Thames Waters theories that they have the facilities to cope with all the houses planned for not only Drayton but for the 3 other villages that are part of this system. At times there are tankers visiting the site day and night, taking water away. the only entrance to this site is by a bridle way frequently used by horses walkers and occasional service vehicles. there are no passing areas. The drivers show great respect when passing our and our neighbour's house in the early hours but a tanker of that size fully lit is hard to ignore. Briefly what is to happen to all the extra grey bin waste? The tip must be nearing it's capacity. This has not been mentioned at all that I have read. Yours as above
